Soldier Priest Answers Last Call.

The Rev. Father Thomas S. Major, soldier of the Lost Cause, of Christ and of the Holy Catholic church, died in Frankfort Tuesday morning after a hard fight for life. Illness of several months had placed the life of this useful man in jeopardy and death came as a relief to his long suffering.

The funeral of Father Major will be held this morning at 9 o'clock. The Right Rev. P. P. Maes will officiate at the solemn requiem high mass at 9 o'clock a. m. After the mass the men of the parish will gather in procession and precede the funeral cortege to the cemetery, where the body will be interred. Until the hour of the funeral the body lay in state in the Good Shepherd church.

Father Major was a son of Dr. F. M. Major and was born in this city on July 13, 1844, in East Paris and in the vicinity of the property now occupied by Mrs. Sue K. Moran.

The family moved later to Covington where they lived for many years. There were four children, of whom only Mrs. Charlotte Auld, of Indianapolis, a sister of Father Major, survives. Father Major was born and reared a protestant and was converted to the Catholic belief while in a Catholic hospital in Cincinnati. He was a priest for thirty-six years, of which time he spent seventeen years in Frankfort in charge of the church in that city.

Father Major was captured while a member of Morgan's cavalry, on the raid through Ohio. He was cut off from the remainder of the soldiers at Buffington's Island and taken prisoner along with many others of Morgan's men. He was sent to Camp Douglas, suffering from a bullet wound in his arm. This wound never entirely healed in that it gave him pain even up to the time of his death. After remaining in the prison at Camp Douglas for several weeks Father Major and other prisoners planned to escape. They began a tunnel to get out of the walls. The tunnel was dug successfully and more than a hundred of the Confederates made their escape from the prison.

Father Major went to Cincinnati after his escape and his wound was in such condition that it was necessary for him to go to a hospital. It was there that he was nursed back to health and converted to the Roman Catholic belief. During the war there was no braver soldier nor more daring in Morgan's command than Father Major and he fought, as did the others, with dash and daring that made the Morgan cavalry famous.

Father Major's preparation for the ministry, after he had first contemplated studying medicine, was at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary of the West, at Cincinnati, after which he went to St. Joseph's University, Spring Hill, near Mobile. He was appointed to his first pastorate at Cynthia and later was transferred as assistant pastor at Lexington, by his own request, and later to the diocese of San Antonio, Texas, and then to Chicago. He served the church in Winchester for four years and in 1895 was sent to Frankfort.

Father Major's lecture "From the Army to the Altar" was widely delivered and attracted much attention all over the country. He made his fame as an orator with that lecture.

Successor to Bidwell Chosen.

At the meeting of the State Racing Commission held in Lexington Tuesday, J. Pelham Johnstone, son of Adjt. Gen. P. P. Johnstone, was selected as secretary of the board to succeed W. E. Bidwell.

When the commission met no word had been received from Secretary Bidwell, whose absence has caused considerable inconvenience and worry to the commission, and accordingly his place was declared vacant. There were six applicants for the position, but Mr. Johnstone was considered the most available candidate.

Big Shortage in Burley Crop.

The Burley tobacco crop of Kentucky, which last year was estimated to be 300,000,000 pounds, will not amount to more than 50,000,000 this year, it is believed. The great shortage is due to the worst drought in thirty years, hailstorms, which recently damaged or destroyed 200 growing crops, and the failure of hundreds of farmers who were members of the Burley Society to plant tobacco this year on account of the large amount of the pooled crops of other years still unsold.

Cast-Off Trousers Worn by Mules

All manner of devices are in use by horsemen to secure immunity for their animals from the bite of a small green fly that in the last week or so has infested Christian county. Ordinary fly nets are useless, and livermen have found no insecticide that will deter the fly at all. Farmers have been seen in town driving mules completely encased in sacking, the coverings for the legs consisting of cast-off trousers, the effect being most ludicrous.

Nicholasville Fair.

The News acknowledges receipt of a complimentary to the Knights of Pythias Fair to be held in Nicholasville August 30-31. The fair is one of the best in the State, furnishing a fine list of premiums and excellent stock and agriculture show. The meeting this year promises to eclipse all former efforts of the fair company.

State Fair Board Called.

Commissioner of Agriculture Rankin has called a meeting of the State Fair Board for August 28, in Louisville, at which time the fair grounds will be inspected and final arrangements for the Fair will be completed.
